

Our Client is Our First Priority!®

Nevada Trust Company® Adds Nonprofit Leadership Perspective with Appointment of Kimberly Kindig to Board of Directors

September 28, 2026

LAS VEGAS, NV--Nevada Trust Company®, Nevada's first trust administration firm, has appointed longtime Nevada nonprofit executive Kimberly Kindig to its Board of Directors, adding a new perspective in community leadership, strategic growth and nonprofit governance to a board whose members have traditionally brought deep financial-sector experience.

The appointment was approved by the State of Nevada Financial Institutions Division on September 23.

Kindig is Vice President of Advancement at The Mob Museum, the National Museum of Organized Crime and Law Enforcement, where she oversees philanthropy, strategic partnerships, public funding initiatives, volunteer engagement, and advisory council relations. She is an accomplished nonprofit executive with more than 15 years of experience in organizational leadership, governance, strategic planning, fundraising, and financial stewardship.

Joe Mazon, Nevada Trust Company® President and Board Treasurer, called Kindig's appointment a purposeful addition of experience and perspective. "Our board members bring distinguished backgrounds in the financial sector. Kimberly adds a complementary organizational leadership viewpoint shaped by strategic partnerships and deep engagement in the community," he said.

"I am honored to join the Nevada Trust Company® board and contribute to a company with such deep roots in our state," said Kindig. "Throughout my career, I have focused on strategic growth, strong governance and building relationships. I look forward to bringing that experience and my deep connection to Nevada to my work on the board."

Directors Dave Thorson and Yane Hsu emphasized how Kindig's experience will complement the board's existing strengths. "Kimberly's experience leading organizations through growth and change brings valuable perspective to our board," said Thorson. "Her background in governance, strategic planning and relationship building will be valuable as Nevada Trust Company® continues to grow."

"Her extensive experience with nonprofit organizations complements our objective of providing trusted services to clients," said Hsu.

Prior to joining The Mob Museum's executive leadership team in 2025, Kindig served as Chief Executive Officer of Candlelighters Childhood Cancer Foundation of Nevada, where she led a six-year period of transformational growth and long-term stabilization. Earlier in her career, Kindig held leadership positions with The Mob Museum, Catholic Charities of Southern Nevada, and The Solutions Foundation.

About Nevada Trust Company®

Nevada Trust Company is an independent trust company headquartered in Las Vegas, Nevada, founded in 1995 as the first trust services firm in Nevada. We provide fiduciary, trust administration, and wealth transfer services to individuals, families, and advisors throughout the U.S. and abroad. Nevada Trust Company® believes the best fiduciary relationships are built on meaningful connection and a deep understanding of what clients, families, and their advisors are working to achieve. Leveraging Nevada's favorable trust laws and decades of institutional expertise, we deliver customized solutions to preserve and protect wealth, carry forward client intentions, and support legacies for generations to come. For more information, visit www.NevadaTrust.com.